

NATIONAL TAX JOURNAL

Volume 77, No. 1 • March 2024

Articles

Products, Services, and Tax-Motivated
Income Shifting
Zero Deng and Scott G. Rane

Intergenerational Effects of the EITC:
The Case of Grandparents
Sara LaLumia

Corporate Taxes and Initial Public Offerings:
Evidence from the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act
Alexander Edwards and Michelle L. Hutchens

The Supply Elasticity of Municipal Debt:
Evidence from Bank-Qualified Bonds
Travis St. Clair

Forum: Administrative Burden in the Tax and Transfer System

Introduction
Laura Kawano

Rising Income Tax Complexity
Youssef Benzarti and Luisa Wallossek

New Evidence on the Cycle in the Women,
Infants, and Children Program: What Happens When Benefits Expire
Marianne Bitler, Jason Cook, Seojung Oh, and Paige Rowberry

Safety-Net Program Spillovers and Administrative Burden
Lucie Schmidt, Lara Shore-Sheppard, and Tara Watson

Chicago

Now Publishing Short Papers

The National Tax Journal is pleased to announce a new Short Paper submission format for interested authors.

To have a manuscript considered as a Short Paper, authors must select the "Short Paper" article type at the time of submission.

Short Paper Guidelines:

- No longer than 6,000 words (exclusive of references)
- May include up to 5 figures or tables
- Online-only material is encouraged, but Short Paper content must be self-contained without reliance on supplemental appendices
- Streamlined submission process involving one round of peer review
- Editorial decisions are limited to a desk rejection, a rejection based on peer review, or a conditional acceptance

For Author Instructions and Submission Guidelines, visit www.journals.uchicago.edu/ntj

Questions? Email ntj@uchicago.edu